Obexion UD SR3 Shutter

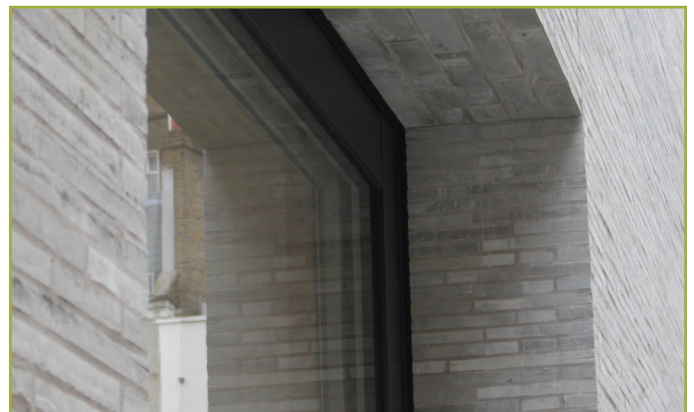

Charter Global were approached by the Gagosian Gallery to secure their state of the art new gallery on Grosvenor Hill, Mayfair. With an ambitious architectural design, the building echoed the modern and contemporary art displayed inside.

The third renown Gagosian gallery space to appear in London - one of the 16 worldwide - is owned by Larry Gagosian is considered one of the most powerful art dealers in the world. When approaching Charter Global, the objective was clear; the building required a secure system to protect the valuable pieces from both opportunists and Organised Crime (OC) without intruding on the feel of the gallery.

The security system recommended by Charter Global was the Obexion UD SR3 Shutter. Applied in architecturally sensitive areas of high security risk, the shutters are concealed within the face of the entrance of the gallery. Completely out of view when not in use.

Fulfilling the requirement to be aesthetically unobtrusive, this particular measure has undergone rigorous testing to security standard LPS 1175 Issue 7.

Intelligently designed, the Obexion UD SR3 system features an all-aluminium construction to reduce the overall weight. Particularly beneficial for the Gagosian gallery as it meant the shutter could operate using smaller motor sizes and the system could be installed to the main framework of the building - ultimately increasing the longevity.

High value buildings such as galleries, or National properties, require a thorough risk assessment and security measure both for their monetary value and cultural significance.

With the Obexion UD SR3, deliberate forced entry using bodily force and a wide selection of power tool attack are effectively integrated. Additionally, due to the intelligent LockDown feature, no auxiliary locks were required.

Reducing key handling issues and ensuring the gallery can not be left insecure, LockDown further mitigates room for human error:
